QUALITY OF PLACE

A photograph of the Greenwood Community Center building. The building is a single-story structure with a light-colored, textured stone or concrete facade. The name "Greenwood Community Center" is mounted on the wall in large, raised, dark letters. To the left of the name is a small, rectangular, illuminated sign. Below the name is a long row of large windows. To the left of the windows is a dark-colored entrance area with a small, multi-paned window above the door. The building is surrounded by lush green trees, and a utility pole is visible on the left side. The sky is overcast.
